GRINDING THEIR AXES.

Anxious Politicians Preparing for To-morrow's Fray.

The Advance Guard of the Delegates Arriving.

Ben Eaton's Supporters Friendly to Senator Hill.

There was considerable of a gathering of the political clans yesterday and before to night the most of the delegations are expected to arrive So far all have been amply provided for and we are informed by the reception committee that outside of the hotels accommodations for at least 350 more have been arranged for

The committee in charge have already decorated the opera house in a very tasty manner and turned it over to the republican committee. Mr Ves Nichols who will call the convention to order last night arranged the manner in which the various delegations would be assigned to seats in the opera house By placing in some chairs there will be room for the 360 delegates on the ground floor, but what to do with the contested delegations Mr Nichols has not made up his mind Ample room will be provided for the press and there will be a messenger service established between the house and the Western Union office We understand that tickets of admission will be issued to the balcony and gallery

THE CANDIDATES' HEADQUARTERS

Nowhere else in Colorado could the candidates and their friends have have secured such convenient, commodious headquarters as right here in Colorado Springs The strangers who were the most vigorous "kickers" are now loudest in their praise of the accommodations furnished them They now acknowledge that the quarters assigned them are worth more than the money asked Certainly credit should be given Colorado Springs for the manner in which she cares for her guests

Senator Hill and his friends are located in The Antlers Annex They occupy nearly the entire building, which was thoroughly renovated and refurnished for their reception Hon. Henry E Wolcott and Hon M Spangler are in charge.

In the same building, in handsomely appointed rooms, are the quarters of the Symes men The rooms will be swarming with friends of this favorite candidate to-day

Honest Ben Eaton has the bridal suite at The Antlers These chambers are the handsomest in the state.

Ex-Senator Tabor has the music room, conservatory and smaller apartments adjoining These quarters are palatial in size and beauty.

Hon T. J Moynahan has five apartments on the second floor of The Antlers He will receive his mountain friends in right royal style

Nearly all the counties have caucus rooms, but they will be little used, as most of the preliminary work will be done in the candidates' rooms, where everything has been so admirably arranged

Pueblo, so far as is known, is the only county whose delegation will go to Manitou

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS

The governorship and senatorial fight have engrossed public attention so much that the nomination of a congressman has been given but little thought. Several candidates are hard at work, but their movements are quiet and hardly noticed It is very likely, however, that the congressional nominee will be settled upon in the caucus of to-day

Judge Symes of Denver has the lead, and unless some powerful combination is made against him he will be nominated on the first ballot. He has a strong pull in the most populous counties of the state

His principal opponents are Colonel Townsend of Custer, and Hon Jackson Orr of San Juan. The former has his friends in the mining districts, while the latter, who served in congress from Iowa from 1871 to 1874, has developed no mean strength in the south, especially in his mountain enclosed section of the state.

GOING TO HILL

Among the many rumors of combinations and coalitions flying about yesterday was one to the effect that the Routt men, as they are called in Arapahoe county, are very likely to lose the support of a large number of Ben Eaton's adherents upon whom they had counted "You see," said one of Weld's foremost citizens to a GAZETTE reporter last evening, "Routt made pledges to both Tabor and Eaton of his assistance when the time came. After the primaries suspicious movements on the part of the Routt faction aroused the doubts of the Eaton men and yesterday they arrived at the conclusion that they were to be thrown over for Tabor They are now flocking to Hill The truth is that the Teller Routt interests are so tied up with those of Tabor that it is next to impossible to desert him

CONVENTION NOTES

Mr G W Mabee, chairman of the Gilpin county delegation, is at The Antlers

There will be a joint caucus of the Lake and Gunnison delegates some time this afternoon.

The Lake delegation will arrive this afternoon, on the Salt Lake express, and will at once proceed to the Tabor headquarters

Col H W Comstock, of Canon City, preceded the Fremont county delegation last night, and is quartered at the Crawford house

The Pueblo delegation is expected to arrive this afternoon and will be provided with accommodations at the Manitou house, Manitou

United States Marshal Walt Smith arrived at the Antlers last evening He is in favor of Teller, it is whispered, but is not a delegate

A special train of four Pullman sleepers will bring the Tabor delegation from Denver via the Denver & New Orleans this afternoon

The office and halls of The Antlers presented a very lively appearance last night, more so than at any time since the house opened

Mr Fred Hausling, of Gunnison, one of the youngest and most intelligent of all the delegates, is one of the most expert mining engineers in the state

Hon D G Peabody, of Canon City, a prominent candidate for lieutenant governor, arrived last evening, and has his headquarters at the Crawford house

H E Hill, special examiner of land entries for Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico and one of the Teller contesting delegates from Arapahoe, is at The Antlers

Vice President Freeman at the last session of the state senate and a candidate for that body who will probably be elected, is pulling the political wires at The Antlers

Judge F C Goudy, a former resident of Colorado Springs and a member of the Ouray delegation, was seen chatting with his old friends at the Hill headquarters last night.

J L Hodges, chairman of the Lake county delegation, is at The Antlers Lake will insist on the nomination of Green for state treasurer Beyond that they are somewhat divided

The Hill delegation will leave Denver this morning at 8 30 on the Denver & Rio Grande reaching here about noon They will come in their own Pullman sleepers, and occupy them while here.

The La Plata delegation came up from the south yesterday morning Five of the delegates registered at The Antlers and the others went through to Denver with the expectation of returning to day

Hon. W C Lothrop, who will be a candidate with the Teller faction for the chairmanship of the republican central committee to succeed Jerome B Chaffee, came in on the Manitou express last night.

Hon. B H Eaton, of Weld county, and one of the most promising candidates for governor, came down from the north yesterday on the Thunderbolt and took possession of his headquarters on the first floor of The Antlers

Hon. H R. Wolcott, Col J. C. Montgomery, General Stimson and Sheriff Mike Spangler were among the first of the Arapahoe delegates to arrive. They came in on the Salt Lake express at 10 40 yesterday morning and were assigned to rooms in The Antlers annex

Last night's Manitou express from the north brought, among other prominent leaders in the republican party, Senator N P Hill A. L Emigh, of Fort Collins, Secretary Nichols, of the state republican committee, Col. R. G. Dill, Judge Elbert and Henry Sparnick. They were all provided with accommodations at the Antlers.

Gunnison county sent in its full delegation of 10 persons on the Salt Lake express from the south last night. Among other prominent men with the delegation are J H Fessler, of the Iron National bank, A B Johnson, editor of the Review Press, Hon. A M Stevenson, C S Nichols of the Tin Cup Miner.

The Gunnison delegation is greatly sought after Heretofore it has been considered about evenly divided on the senatorial question Several gentlemen who have been given places "on the fence" by public opinion openly avowed their friendship for Senator Hill last evening. It was intended to hold a caucus last night, but it was deferred

Among the journalists who have already arrived in the city to attend the convention are James MacCathy ("Fitz-Mac"), Ed Cowan, F. O Dickensheets, C F Whitehead, Eugene Bertrand, of Denver, Mr. Johnson, of the Review Press, Gunnison City, Mr Nichols, of the Tin Cup Miner, and F C Curry, of the Telluride Journal, and F P. Sheafor, of Pitkin News

Many bids for proxies were made last evening In some instances large sums of money were offered, but all efforts to send the regular delegates home proved unsuccessful Saguache will not be represented by an Arapahoe man, nor will a Weld county man answer when Las Animas is called Not this year This is a hopeful indication forecasting a peaceable convention

About two-thirds of the Custer delegation —all in the city at present—met in caucus early last evening, but adjourned without discussing any of the many interesting points that might have been brought up It was thought best to defer any action The delegation was complete Colonel McNeely and Colonel Townsend, two old republican war horses, lead the Custer county men The caucus will be held this evening.

VICTORY IN MAINE.

Maine Republicans Carry the State by Increased Plurality.

Claimed to be a Gain of Over Sixteen Thousand.

Electing State Officers and Four Members of Congress.

PORTLAND, Me September 8 —The citizens of Maine will to day elect a governor four members of congress, thirty one state senators, 151 representatives and full boards of county officers The gubernatorial vote of 1880 stood Plaisted, fusion, 73,713, Davis, republican, 73 544 scattering 545, total 147,802 The presidential vote stood Garfield 74,052, Hancock 65,211, Weaver 4,409, Neal Dow 92, scattering 139, total 143 903, showing a republican plurality of 8,841 against a minority of 169 in the gubernatorial election in September The presidential vote generally gains on the gubernatorial vote of the same year, owing to the slackened exertions of the defeated party Therefore to the winner's majority to-day may be added an increase for the presidential majority in November The vote in 1880 was the heaviest ever cast Governor Roble has served one term and his popularity is of the highest character John B Redman, the democratic candidate, is a younger man, popular and everywhere respected There is no reason why each should not command the full party vote Although the interest is in the presidential contest and outside comparisons will be made with 1880 the figure of the most recent vote, that of 1882 will be used for press comparisons in conformity with the usual custom, in order to give the closest possible estimate of what the present year's vote will be

PORTLAND Maine September 8, noon —Wards 1, 2, 3, 5 and 7, of this city show 233 republican majority Wards 4 and 6 will balance each other This indicates a republican majority of 450 in the city In 1882 the republican majority for governor was 243

PORTLAND, Me, September 8 — Sixteen towns of the First district show gains for Reed of 234 over '80, Biddeford not included A large loss is reported there Reed's plurality in '80 was 1,157 Republican committee reports indicate Reed will be re elected to congress by a fair majority Reports from Aroostook county give that county to the republicans by increased majority The Lewiston Journal, republican, gives Roble 12 000 majority and claims all congressmen elected

PORTLAND, Maine, September 8 —Portland gives Roble for governor 5 911, Redman democrat, 3 214, scattering 63, republican gain over '80 of 523, plurality about the same as in '82 Long Island is still to be heard from Reed for congress falls behind, having 37 plurality exclusive of the islands, but democrats concede his election and republicans claim a majority in the district

PORTLAND, Me., September 8 —The election passed off quietly Augusta, Blaine's home, gives Roble, republican, 1,370 Redman, democrat, 634, scattering, 43 In 1880 Davis, republican, had 1,105, Plaisted, fusion 899

Twenty five towns of Maine give Roble 10,290, Redman 6 951, scattering 596 The same towns in 1880 gave Davis, republican, 9 400; Plaisted, fusion, 8,355, scattering 100 Plurality in 1880 1 135 In 1884 it is 3 338, showing a republican gain of 2,203 Plurality elects in Maine

Fifty towns give Roble 18,839, Redman 13,286, scattering 811 The same towns in '80 gave Davis 17,500, Plaisted 15,591, scattering 156 Plurality in '80 1,909, in '84 5,543, a republican gain of 3 574

PORTLAND, September 8 One hundred towns give Roble 30,750, Redman, 22,131, scattering, 1,340, republican plurality of 8,011 The same towns in '80 gave Davis 28 521, Plaisted, 26,162, republican plurality of 2,350, a republican gain of 6,252

Bulletin returns from all sections of the state show slight republican gains over '80 The congressional vote is coming in slowly, but at 10 indications are that all four of the present congressmen are re-elected The constitutional amendment is carried by a good majority

PORTLAND, Me, September 9 —At 2 25 a. m, republicans claim 16,000 plurality for Roble Democrats concede 12,000 All republican congressmen are re elected, and the state legislature is strongly republican It is impossible to give the congressional result in figures to-night, but estimates based upon returns give Reed republican, a majority of 800 in the First district, with Dingley, Milliken and Boutelle re elected in the Second, Third and Fourth districts respectively, Boutelle by increased majority.

PORTLAND, September 9th, 2 30 a. m — Two hundred and sixty seven towns give Roble 61,318, Redman 45,064, scattering 2,414, plurality for republicans of 16,244 The same towns in '83 gave Roble 56,105 Plaisted 47,510, scattering 467, plurality 8 085 Towns to hear from gave Roble 16,268 and Plaisted 16,411 Roble will have over 16 000 plurality in a total vote of about 140 000 The vote of '80 gave a total plurality of 160, so the gain this year will be 16,000 on the gubernatorial vote of '80 The presidential vote of that year gained 9 000 on the gubernatorial vote and probably will gain in November considerably on this All four congressmen are elected and the legislature will be overwhelmingly republican

CALAIS Maine September 8 —Twenty five towns in Washington county polling four fifths total vote give Roble 3 909 Redman 2 432, a republican majority of 1 11 Roble will probably have 1 400 majority in the county Republicans elect both senators by large majorities and representatives sure Returns from all over the county show a republican gain of 300 or 400

BATH, Maine, September 8 —The vote for governor seems to be running about the same as in 188. At noon it was over two to one in favor of republicans The presence of women at the ward rooms working for the constitutional amendment is a novelty before unknown The amendment will probably be carried here

BRIDGTON Me September 8 —1 p m — Two thirds of the poll vote has been cast Indications are that the republican majority will exceed 100 Although Cleaves native town Reed for congress will not fall behind the ticket, and may run ahead a few votes

BOSTON, September 8 —The Journal's Maine specials indicate four republican congressmen elected No democratic state senators are chosen The house is overwhelmingly republican

BELFAST, Me, September 8 —A democratic gain is indicated

Cleveland at Elmira

ELMIRA N Y September 8 —This is a gala day for Elmira It is estimated there are 50,000 people on the fair grounds Gov Cleveland accompanied by his private secretary, Col Dan Lamont, and Adjutant General Farnsworth, arrived this morning At the governor's special request there was no demonstration at that hour aside from a salute of twenty one guns by the Cleveland battery The party were met at the depot by Lieutenant Governor Hill Mr M Harnot and a number of prominent citizens.

Governor Cleveland commenced speaking at 2 45 He spoke from a carriage in front of Manufacturers hall and was introduced by the president of the fair Immediately after Cleveland arose a great cheer went up from a multitude of 15 000 people, shouting themselves hoarse His remarks were listened to with great attention and often interrupted with cheers

The governor spoke as follows

It affords me great pleasure to meet you here to day and to have an opportunity of inspecting the annual exhibition which illustrates the condition of agriculture in our state I regard these annual fairs as something connected with the state government, because to some extent at least, they are fostered and aided by public funds I am sure no good citizen is inclined to complain of the appropriation of a small part of the people's money to the encouragement of this important interest. The fact that this is done furnishes distinct recognition by the state of the relations which its farmers and its farms bear to the prosperity and welfare of the commonwealth We boast of our manufactures, exceeding, as they do, largely those of any other state but our supremacy is clearly shown when we recall the fact that in addition to our leading manufactures the value of our farms and their products is second only to those exceeding them in their fixedness and reliability, which are not always found in other industries and human effort. The soil remains in its place ready to be tilled and farmers with ruddy health and brawny arms depend alone upon the work of their hands and the aid of kind providence for the reward of their labor Thus our farmers are the most independent of our citizens The producers have within their reach all the need for their necessities and comfort. Their crops may be more abundant at one harvest than another, their products may command higher prices in one market time than another These conditions may expand or contract their ability to indulge in luxury or in expenditures not absolutely needful, but they should never be in want of the necessaries or comforts of life This is the sure result of patient and well regulated farming When the farmer fails and becomes bankrupt at his business, we may, I think, and confidently, look for shiftlessness or to ambitious desires to own more land or more stock than they can pay for, or an intermeddling with matters that bear no relation to the farmer Such mismanagement and ignorance demonstrate that he has mistaken his vocation The tradesman and manufacturer by the vicissitudes of trade or through the allurements of a short road to wealth may in a day be overcome and bring disaster and ruin upon hundreds of his neighbors In the industrious, intelligent and contented farmer the state finds a safe and profitable citizen always contributing to its wealth and prosperity The relation of the farmer to state and nation is not, however fully appreciated until we consider that he feeds millions of our people who are engaged in other pursuits than the products of his labor all the avenues of commerce and supplies an important factor in our financial relations with other nations I have not come with an attempt to please with cheap praise, nor magnify your worth and importance, but I have come as the chief executive of the state to acknowledge in its behalf that our farmers yield full return for the benefits they receive from the state government, the importance of the interest which you have in charge and to suggest that notwithstanding the farmer's independence he cannot and must not be entirely unmindful of the value and importance to the interest he holds of a just and economical government. It is his right and his duty to demand that all unjust and inequitable burdens upon agriculture and its products, however caused, should be removed, and that while the furtherance of other interests of the state have due regard this important one should not be neglected Thus by his labor as a farmer and the full performance of his duty as a citizen he will create and secure to himself his share of the result

A Famine in Labrador

ST JOHNS N F, September 8 —The latest Labrador news is appalling The codfish catch is short half a million quintals and on the northeast coast of New Foundland a famine is imminent About 800 families are reported starving and sustaining life at present on squids The whole coast of New Foundland and Labrador is studded with icebergs.

A MILLION STOLEN.

New Brunswick Shaken by a Financial Crash.

The Evil Doers Escape Justice by Committing Suicide.

Cleveland Suffers a Fire Loss of a Million.

Another Bank Sensation

NEW BRUNSWICK September 8 — New Brunswick is shaken to its center Bank Examiner Shelly has discovered a deficit of over one million dollars in the surplus cash and securities The town is wild Men rush frantically to the doors of the National bank only to be told that business at that institution is suspended for the present Ira Voorhees' estate is partially ruined Cashier Hill was left as custodian to his estate Of the bonds and securities he made away with all Over $19 000 was taken here In G B Adrian's estate over $80 000 is gone Mahlon Runyon, who committed suicide, has sixty thousand dollars in government bonds Hill had negotiated for some of these, three days before his death Runyon knew nothing of Hill's doings trusting him implicitly The crash in Wall street in May last took the bulk of Hill's stealings Runyon although quite popular, was ignorant of financial matters, and was a willing tool in the hands of the cashier

At 9 45 President Runyan drove up to the bank in his carriage He was accompanied by his two young daughters "Good bye, papa," said Julia, the eldest reaching out of the carriage as Mr Runyon descended to the pavement "I hope all will be well If you do not see me before night," he responded, "tell mama I will stick to the bank" Twenty minutes later he sent Chief Fitzgerald, who was in charge of the bank, for a copy of the morning paper, in which a story was told of his complicity in the bank's downfall Securing the paper he went into the room occupied by the organizing directors and began to read. A deathly pallor spread over his face, and he exclaimed "My God, what will my children do?" Passing a handkerchief over his brow, he threw the paper into the lap of Director Stoddard and excusing himself went into the toilet room of the bank A minute later the sound of a fall was heard The directors rushed to the closet and there discovered Runyon on the floor, blood oozing from a gaping wound in in the throat. Determined on suicide he had cut his wrists deeply, blood spurting against the wall of the ceiling Thousands of people outside were horrified "Shall we raid the bank" was the question which agitated the agonized depositors Farmers from the country joined the throng and shouted for their money Police flanked the street and with difficulty quieted the rising disturbance At 1 20 one of the directors, Johnson Letson, was reported dead Investigation revealed the fact that he had become exhausted on account of the strain on his nervous system He was a heavy stockholder and had deposited trust funds Charley Dawes, a clerk of the bank, who had been reported dead, was found alive at 1 45 p m

NEW BRUNSWICK, N J, September 8 — The National bank is in chaos Over a million was stolen by Hill and Mahlon Runyon The president, implicated in the theft of Hill, expected to be arrested when he took his life. The city is wild Crowds blockade Church street where the bank stands Acting Cashier Campbell expected to be arrested for complicity in the conspiracy Millionaires are trembling More than two suicides are predicted A mob threatened to burst open the bank and were subdued by the police Walter Carroll, a depositor, cut his throat on account of losses

The excitement over the double suicide of the president and cashier of the National Bank of New Jersey has become intense The statement furnished by these officials in June of the current year showed a paid up capital of $250 000, surplus $125 000, undivided profits $45 150 There has been nothing in the public history of the bank since that date to cause any uneasiness among stockholders The suicide of President Runyon while strengthening the testimony of giant frauds in the management has caused unbounded astonishment among the general public.

President Runyon, who committed suicide this morning, was a farmer sixty years old He leaves a wife and four children, He had been president of the bank five years Runyon was not generally regarded as much of a financier, and the late cashier, Hill, was considered to be running the institution prettty much his own way Not much can be gleaned concerning the death of the president He appears to have been known to few operators on Wall street.

NEW BRUNSWICK, September 8 The scene at the bank beggars description Blood had flowed from the room out upon the marble floor, staining it a distance of four feet.

"My God," exclaimed Director Stoddard, "The whole city will go under The city debt is now nearly two millions and the bank holds its paper The savings banks have gone under and we have the capital"

"Was Mr Runyon about to be arrested?"

"So I have heard"

"What for?"

"Please don't ask me I am nearly dead myself"

Martin A Howell who withdrew as a director eight years ago, said

"I saw it coming Charley Hill was too liberal The republican party went to him as banker for funds He doubtless took the bank surplus to aid his friends Knowing the condition of affairs I quietly withdrew"

"Why did you not let the public know your suspicion?"

"I was asked not to do so"

"By whom?"

"By the directors"

The effect on the town is crushing The wildest excitement prevails The streets are thronged with country depositors Fears of a raid on the bank are increasing A hundred special policemen were sworn in by the mayor to surround the bank property.

A coroner's jury in the case of Mahlon Runyon's death returned a verdict of "willful suicide"

Acting Cashier Campbell was seen "What do you know?" the reporter asked

"I am amazed and horrified over the affair. My heart's blood might have been spilt for Charley, but when I see what is about to occur, the fall of the whole institution, my heart bleeds. But," he added, "I am innocent Hill was never my confidant, although I undertook some of his greatest missions as messenger from Hay, Gartner & Co to New York I have taken money for bonds to them, don't know the result, have feared the present result for six months but kept my mouth closed I feared expulsion by the directors"

NEW YORK, September 8 —The suicide of President Runyon, of the First National bank of New Brunswick, is said in Wall street to be due to his overdrawing his account at the bank about $30 000 He also invested the bank's money in securities not negotiable at the value represented

A Terrible Conflagration

CLEVELAND Ohio September 7 —A great conflagration is raging on the flats The entire fire department is in service, and telegrams have been sent to Akron, Youngstown Painesville, Erie Sandusky and Toledo for assistance The origin of the fire is unknown Incendiarism is suspected by some, but the most probable theory is that the sparks from a tug set fire early in the evening to a pile of shavings, from which the flames spread until Woods, Perry & Co.'s extensive lumber yard was ablaze The fire continued to extend, defying all the efforts of the firemen The lumber yards of Potter Birdsall & Co, and C G King & Co were also consumed The Variety Iron works were destroyed, Stanley's candle factory was burned and part of Sherwin Williams & Co's varnish works, and at 10 o clock the conflagration threatened to become still more extensive About ten acres of lumber and frame buildings were aflame at one time and huge clouds of smoke thickly studded with blazing cinders, were blown by the changing wind for miles, causing an intense excitement lest the myriads of sparks should kindle fires in every direction, and perhaps lay waste a large part of the city

CLEVELAND, September 8 —The scene of last night's conflagration presents a desolate appearance to-day The fire covers an area extending from Scranton avenue and the Bee Line track on the east and west and from the river to Girard street north and south It embraced a triangle the base of which runs from east to west 1,100 feet, the two sides extending southerly and nearly meeting a distance of 1,300 feet. The fire appears to have started in the centre of Wood, Perry & Co's yard and extended west to the yard of Potter, Birdsall & Co, extending from Scranton avenue to the Bee Line and from the river to Carter street, eating up 5,000 000 feet of lumber, twenty-seven cars of the Bee line, and other incidentals, such as office buildings, shanties and stables Having swept away the square the flames leaped across the river on the north and across the Bee Line embankment on the west and ate their way into the rear of Sherwin, Williams & Co.'s works, and G. A. Stanley's lard oil and candle manufactory on the north, attacking Hubbell & Westover's lumber yard on the west.

Considerable damage was done here, but the flames were isolated after a desperate fight, and progress was checked in this direction Having destroyed everything north of Carter street the fire made its way across the street, going south and attacking the Variety Iron works, Eynor & Co's machine shop house and Davidson's box factory and planing mill, Woods, Perry & Co 's planing mill, and Howell & Co 's coal yards, wholly wiping out everything embraced between Carter, Berford and Vaillard streets and Scranton avenue Step by step the flames were fought, but unsuccessfully The fire burned itself out in a southerly direction and then stopped Running through Scranton avenue from north to south the flames leaped across the street, attacking the N Y, P & O office, two freight offices and the Merchants Despatch building Quick and energetic work saved the day office and freight houses They were slightly damaged but part of the Merchants Despatch building was burned down This comprises all of the fire. The ruins are smoking and smouldering and eight engines are throwing water on them

The losses and insurance are as follows, as nearly as can be learned Wood, Perry & Co, loss $675 000, insurance $300,000, C G King & Co, loss $65 000, insurance $25,000, Potter, Birdsall & Co, loss $125 000, insurance $57,000 Variety Iron Co, loss $40 000, insurance $26 800 Erie & Son, loss $50,000, insurance $30,000, Hubbell & Westover, loss $100,000, insurance covered, House & Davidson, loss $60,000, insurance $42,000, Sherwin, Williams & Co, loss $30,000, insurance covered, G C Stanley, loss $12,000, insurance covered, C C C & I Ry, loss $25,000, insurance unknown, N Y P & O Ry, loss $10,000, insurance covered, Howell's Coal Co, loss $50,000, insurance covered

China Declares War

LONDON, September 8.—The Pall Mall Gazette says The Chinese government has made a declaration of war in the form of a manifesto from the emperor to the people The emperor declares that he regards the French action as constituting a state of war, and he calls upon his subjects to aid in repelling the foe

The Pall Mall Gazette has the following "Chinese reports the damage done to forts and arsenals on Min river by Admiral Courbet trifling The French landed and destroyed only three guns at the Minyan forts, and did not land at all At Kin Pai the arsenal was not damaged, and no war material destroyed, no fire and no explosion Work at the arsenal is proceeding as usual The naval loss is serious, but after all only two fighting vessels were sunk The others were dispatch or patrol boats The defenses of the river are now in as good condition as before the bombardment."

A Savings Bank Suspends

NASHVILLE, Tenn, September 8 — The Lincoln Savings bank of Fayetteville, Tenn, closed this morning Stringency of the money market and inability to collect forced the suspension The depositors, it is said, will be paid in full and stockholders will perhaps get 50 per cent or more if the assets are judiciously managed The deposits are about $100,000 and assets $200,000.

A Murderer's Mind Weakening

CHICAGO, September 8 — Chas Downie, the board of trade broker who shot and killed his brother last week, is declared to be rapidly becoming insane. He made an ineffectual attempt to commit suicide by hanging himself last night, but was detected by one of the jail officials in time to save his life.

Each county delegation is requested to select a suitable person to act as a member of the state central committee and report name and postoffice address to the convention.

J. B. CHAFFEE,
Chairman,
SYLVESTER NICHOLS,
Secretary.

Ex-Senator Tabor offered to bet in Denver yesterday $1,500 even that he would have 41 out of the 59 votes in the Routt delegation that would loyally and steadfastly support him. There were no takers.

This is the way it strikes an observer so partial to the Routt-Tabor-Teller combination as the Denver News: "Chairman Campbell, of "the republican county committee of El Paso "county, ought to write a manual of parlia-"mentary law. He seems to possess a fine "stock of original ideas on that subject."

It is a well known and admitted fact that all committees appointed by any legislative or corporate body, or by any assembly of men not in a corporate capacity, derive their power and authority from the body making the appointment. The object of having a committee is that it may perform certain acts which a small number can do better than a whole body, and every committee has to take cognizance of all the matters referred to it by the power that appointed it, and no more. Now let this rule be applied to the county central committee of this county. The county convention has from time to time committed to its central committee authority to conduct its canvass, call conventions, recommend the time for precinct primaries, call to order the conventions and to perform such other duties as are needed in order that the convention may be properly convened. But the right to call for the credentials of the delegates to the county convention has not only not been given to the central committee but has been expressly denied. In the county convention of 1881 a motion was made that the central committee should also act as committee on credentials, in order that the report might be ready when the convention assembled. But it was objected to, on the ground that it would give too much power into the hands of the central committee, and the motion was lost. Thus it is proved that John Campbell exceeded his power entirely when he called for credentials of delegates in our late county convention.

SIMPLE FACTS.

The simple facts regarding the El Paso contest are these: A precinct committee composed of Teller men called the primaries. The chairman of this committee is a partner of John Campbell. This precinct committee appointed the board of judges and arranged for the primaries. The election was closely contested. Both sides had challengers at the polls, so that the vote was closely scrutinized. The board of judges in the different wards were careful in receiving votes, and did not receive votes where it was evident that the voter was a democrat or not a legal voter. After the contest was over it appeared that the Hill delegates had a majority of nine in the First ward, a majority of three in the Third ward, and a majority of twelve in the Fourth ward. The Campbell-Teller ticket had a majority of seven in the Second ward. The judges all made returns according to the above. There was no charge that the judges had in any way been dishonest or unfaithful. There was no charge that the count was incorrect. But this defeat was hard to bear, and so charges of corruption, of voting democrats, etc., were made. But the fact that the Teller men appointed the board of judges and that the most experienced men at the polls were Teller men, that the count that gave the Hill men three wards was correct are sufficient proof that the primaries were fairly carried. The only way to get around the defeat was to organize the precinct committee into a returning board and throw out some of the votes in this city. The precinct committee has never before attempted to revise or change the returns made by the judges. The authority never was given it. Its duty was to issue the credentials to those delegates who the certificate of the judges showed had the majority of the votes. Its duties were of a distinctly clerical nature. The night before the county convention the precinct committee announced through the evening papers that there was a contest in the First, Third and Fourth wards where the Hill delegates had been elected. No other notice was given the ward delegations contested nor was there any information given regarding the grounds on which the contest would be made. The Teller men had prepared their case. As the meeting was held on the morning of the convention, there was no time for the Hill men to make any fight. They refused to appear. The principal reason was that the precinct committee had no right to go behind the returns and it was its duty to issue certificates of election to those who the returns of the judges showed were elected. But if the committee had this right there was no show of getting justice from the committee under these circumstances. The precinct committee made a recount in the Third ward and decided that two Teller men were elected in that ward and that the other four votes were a tie. There was no just way of throwing out the First and Fourth wards and so the committee refused to issue certificates to the Hill delegates in these wards. They simply said there was a contest. In this way the twenty Hill votes in this city were to be prevented from participating in the temporary organization. Though the roll-call of precincts showed that there were 33 Hill delegates elected on the face of the returns, and only 26 anti-Hill delegates, yet we were to have no voice in the temporary organization. The chairman of the county committee by throwing out over twenty Hill votes declared the anti-Hill candidate for temporary chairman elected by a vote of 26 to 13. The temporary chairman would rule the same way and the vote on the committee on credentials would stand 26 to 13 against the Hill men. The committee on credentials was organized to throw out the Hill men and the vote on the adoption of its report would be 26 to 16. This was the plan which was to give the anti-Hill party absolute control of the convention and steal from the Hill men the victory so fully won.

But the plan was not fully carried out because the Hill men would not submit to acknowledge a chairman elected by twenty-six votes in favor to thirty-three against. So they insisted on the chairman properly elected taking his seat, which lead to the confusion. Finally the two parties did their business in the same room. The Hill men held thirty-two regularly elected delegates loyal, and the Campbell-Teller faction twenty seven. The usurpation of the precinct committee in throwing out regularly-elected delegates is meeting with deserved condemnation. Party machinery was used to retrieve a defeat at the polls and cheat the Hill men of their victory. It was the most outrageous piece of trickery that has been practiced in this campaign. Such methods would enable the party having the precinct and county committee to retain control of the party conventions as long as it elected two delegates. The Hill party could easily have gotten up a contest in the Second ward where there were unnaturalized citizens who voted and also residents of other wards. There was ample ground for other contests and the vote of 26 to 13 could easily have been changed so that the party having 26 votes would be in the minority. If the precedent is established it opens the door to the most unblushing political trickery and fraud.

A Great Solar Outburst.

New York Sun.

Many surprising phenomena have appeared upon the sun during the spot period, which is now beginning to wane, but none, perhaps, more interesting than that described in the Sidereal Messenger for August, by Mr. C. W. Irish, of Iowa City. Watching the solar disk with a telescope on April 10 he was astonished to see, not far from the western edge, and in the neighborhood of a large spot, a brilliant white column standing apparently perpendicular upon the surface of the sun. It rose to a height of eight or ten seconds, corresponding to about 4,000 miles. All around this phenomenon the solar surface appeared to be agitated to an extraordinary degree, and Mr. Irish was particularly struck with the appearance of "fiercely raging waves" whose crests were distinctly seen. The first observation was made about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. On returning to his telescope at 4 o'clock he was still more astonished to see that the white column had in the meantime shot up to nearly double its former height, and had assumed the shape of a sheaf of grain. Subsequently other changes of form seem to have occurred, for in two drawings made by the observer the object appears with rather slender and tapering trunk surrounded by a broad top, drooping gracefully at the outer edges, and recalling the figure of a very perfectly formed elm tree.

That this phenomenon was caused by a solar outburst such as those which produce the well known "prominences" seen by means of the spectroscope along the edges of the sun there can be no doubt. In fact, prominences of almost the exact shape of the object seen by Mr. Irish have been observed upon the sun's edge, and many have been seen there which rose to a much greater height. By the spectroscope method of observation similar outbursts have also been seen, not in profile upon the edge of the sun, but upon the disk, as in this case. But the Iowa City astronomer saw this geyser-like eruption upon the sun simply with a telescope, without the aid of a battery of prisms or any other contrivance to disperse the light.

There is something in the fact of the direct visibility to human eyes of such a phenomenon calculated to profoundly impress the mind. The outburst that made only a beautiful picture in the astronomer's telescope, if it had occurred upon this earth would have shattered the foundations of the globe. Space is filled with suns, in which gigantic energies are at work, and we, dwelling near one of them, may expect to behold, as the power of our instruments and the skill of observers increase, more and more of the play of these solar forces which act upon a scale of cosmical grandeur.

A Real Live Dragon

London Evening News.

If St. George were to revisit the earth he would find his old enemy ready to try issues with him in the far north. The Swedish historian, Dr. Hylten Cavallius, solemnly assures the world through a paper which he has read before the Stockholm Academy of Sciences, that he is convinced that the old Draken or Lindorm, our dragon of legend, is not yet extinct. He bases this fantastic belief upon the testimony of twenty reports in which reputable peasant farmers of the province of Smaland give evidence on oath that they have seen the monster with their own eyes, and in some cases have come near to an actual fight with him. On a comparison of their testimony it appears that the modern dragon is from eighteen to twenty feet in length; its body is about the thickness of a stout man's, its belly yellow; it lives in rocky clefts and always in the neighborhood of water, so that it is probably amphibious. Dr. Cavallius regrets that he is not a sufficiently competent zoologist to determine as to the objective value of these reports and he urges co-academicians not to reject the evidence on a priori grounds, but to institute closer researches. He himself offers a considerable sum for the production of the dead corpus delicti. The Stockholm Dagbladet learns that all the twenty witnesses are credible and sober-minded men, but thinks that a fuller research is more likely to enrich psychological than zoological science.

Hanlan's First Defeat.

SAN FRANCISCO September 8 - The Australian steamer, Zealandia, brings this morning particulars of the boat race between Hanlan, of Toronto, and William Beach of Sydney, rowed on the Paramatta river on August 16 The Zealandia left Sydney before the race occurred but the following details were telegraphed the Auckland papers The race for the championship of the world, stake £1,000, weather magnificent, but the water slightly rough. A splendid start was effected A dead level was maintained for the first quarter of a mile Hanlan then forged ahead. When the mile and a half had been covered the Canadian was a length in advance Beach responded and rowed right down on Hanlan The latter allowed his boat to cross and a foul took place Hanlan put up his hand and claimed "foul" Beach however kept pulling away Hanlan followed but Beach came to the post an easy winner by five or six lengths Time 20 30 The umpire disallowed the foul claimed by Hanlan.

An immense crowd witnessed the race Sixty eight steamers were crowded with spectators and the shore was also densely lined Tremendous enthusiasm was manifested over Beach's victory Hanlan admitted that he was beaten. He was paralyzed by the close proximity of the steamer Tamkte, which came down too close to his boat On the day following the race a large meeting was held in Sydney. Hanlan then admitted that he had purposely fouled Beach because he believed the latter had wilfully crossed over into his water. Hanlan said he was willing to row Beach in three months Beach refused to meet him in less than six months

Australian papers speaking of Hanlan, say his visit has done much to promote rowing, that many of the best scullers have learned much from his good example and no one could be more courteous or willing to instruct than the world-renowned champion. Beach's splendid appearance was commented on He is an Englishman by birth, twenty six years old, six feet high. He went to Australia when a child. He has rowed 12 times against Trickett and beaten him every time but once. He is generally acknowledged to be the finest oarsman Australia has ever produced.

The Markets

NEW YORK, September 8 Money easy, 2 to 3, closing offered 1½, prime paper, 5½ to 6½; sterling exchange easier, $4 83, demand, $4 85, governments quiet; railways lower, state securities dull. Very little was done at the stock exchange today, and the room at times was almost deserted. At the opening the market was weak and lower, but a subsequent rally of ¼ to ½ took place. This was succeeded by a fresh selling movement and general decline. New York Central was affected by the official announcement that the dividend for the quarter would be 1½ per cent., a reduction of ½ per cent. In the afternoon the market was strong on reports that representatives of the Grand Trunk regarded a freight war unlikely. Prices rose ¼ to 1¼ per cent. At the close the improvement was not maintained and the market left off barely steady. The borrowing demand was only moderate, leading shares lending flat to 1-64 per cent for use. Compared with Saturday closing prices are ¼ to 1⅛ per cent lower, except for New Jersey Central, Reading and Texas Pacific, which are ⅛ to ¼ per cent higher. Transactions 169,000 shares.

MAUD HOWE'S NOVEL.

"The San Rosario Ranch!"

Third Thousand. $1.25.

This is an extract from the Boston Daily Advertiser's review, and there is no more able critical authority: "The 'San Rosario Ranch' belongs to a noble class of novels; it deals with the deepest feelings, the strongest emotions and the most powerful motives in human life. It is on a high plain, far above the petty strife, ambition and jealousy out of which 'society novels' are manufactured. The book is written in a spirit of large sympathy, and without one touch of censoriousness or ridicule. This sympathy is far-reaching; it is given to the Indian, driven from his mission; to the faithful Chinaman, killed by the fury of a white scoundrel; to the rich and coarse Irishman, living in splendor and in fear of his butler—of all of them some good is told; the best side is the one that is made prominent. The book is not a sermon, although its tone is so grave and its spirit so earnest; it is a good, warm love story, with plenty of life, of incident and of narrow escapes, and it is a very attractive picture of California life and California people."

THE CRIME OF HENRY VANE By "J. S of Dale" 1 vol, 12mo, $1

It is difficult to phrase the admiration we feel without incurring the charge of extravagance. It is one of the most notable contributions to American literature —Boston Courier

NEWPORT A Novel By George Parsons Lathrop Summer edition 1 vol, paper, 50 cents, cloth, $1 25

Mr Lathrop's best novel —The Nation

THE FAIRFAXES OF TIPTON By Miss Virginia M Thompson $1 25

THE LADY OR THE TIGER? AND OTHER STORIES By Frank R Stockton $1

No magazine story for a very long time has given rise to such animated discussion as Mr Stockton's enigmatical situation, "The Lady or the Tiger," "His Wife's Deceased Sister, "The Transferred Ghost," "That Same Old 'Coon," "Mr. Tolman," "The Training of Parents," "Every Man His Own Letter Writer," and the other stories which make up this collection, are equally remarkable for their novelty, surprise of plot, and cleverness.

THE KING'S MEN. A Tale of To morrow. By Robert Grant, John Boyle O'Reilly, J. S of Dale, and John T. Wheelwright. 1 vol, 12mo, cloth, $1 25

This daring and ingenious story of the future is unquestionably destined to be the most widely discussed book of the summer The brilliant literary partnership which produced it has aroused the keenest curiosity, and certainly the experiment has been the boldest in the history of literary collaboration [illegible] the plot, or of what can be [illegible] concerning the [illegible] politics in the reign of King George the Fifth, it [illegible] be said that the audacity of their conception is fully supported by the admirable telling and exciting incident of the story The book is crowded with action and ingenious complication; and yet the powers which the authors have shown elsewhere are never lost in its rapid movement.

Though not a political document, the story, "The End of New York," by Park Benjamin, will be one of peculiar interest to those who a few years ago were disposed to criticise Mr. Blaine's foreign policy It will be found in the midsummer number of Stories by American Authors For sale everywhere, 50 cents

"A brilliant series" is what the Boston Courier calls Scribner's Stories by American Authors. Five volumes are now published, containing nearly thirty strikingly individual and meritorious tales. Bound in cloth, 50 cents each,

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO'S

NEW BOOKS.

A COUNTRY DOCTOR. A novel. By Sarah Orne Jewett, author of "Deephaven," "Country By-Ways," etc. 16mo, $1.25.

In this novel Miss Jewett uses on a larger scene and with increased effect the qualities which have made her short stories so popular and so thoroughly delightful A woman physician figures in it, but the story is quite unlike the novels by Mr. Howells and Miss Phelps in which women physicians are the heroines. It gives wonderfully accurate pictures of New England characters, customs and scenery; the heroine is "one of our girls" and as such will charm readers as few heroines do in current novels. The freshness, the sincerity, the helpful sympathy, which render Miss Jewett's stories at once so attractive and wholesome, pervade "A Country Doctor," and can hardly fail to make it one of the most widely popular and welcome of this summer's novels.

THE FATE OF MANSFIELD HUMPHREYS. With the Episode of Mr. Washington Adams in England, and an Apology. By Richard Grant White. 16mo, $1.25.

This is one of the most entertaining of "international" books, in which the mutual misconceptions and prejudices of Englishmen and Americans are developed and illustrated.

PHŒBE. A Novel. By the author of "Rutledge." 16mo, $1,25

An American story in character and incidents, told with so much life and spirit that it will be hailed as a special boon by novel readers. To a multitude looking for summer reading, this story needs no other recommendation than that it is by the author of "Rutledge."

THE AMERICAN HORSEWOMAN. By Elizabeth Karr. Illustrated, 12mo, $2.00.

An admirably practical book. The selection and management of a horse, all the details of equipment, every separate article of dress that the rider should wear, and the making of it—all these are described specifically; and the book is made still more useful by illustrative cuts, the whole forming a manual of great value to any lady who would become thoroughly skillful in the equestrienne art.

SUMMER. From the Journals of H. D. Thoreau, author of "Walden," "Cape Cod," etc. Edited by H. G. O. Blake. With a map of Concord. 12mo, gilt top, $1,50.

This book comprises selection from Thoreau's Journals containing observations and reflections during the summers of many years. Some of these are descriptive, with that fine photographic accuracy which marks Thoreau's pictures of natural scenes. Other passages contain those subtle reflections on society, religion, laws, literature, which also characterize whatever Thoreau wrote, and which pique the curiosity and stimulate the minds of his readers.
